

'The people shall have the right to clean air and water, freedom from excessive and unnecessary noise, and the natural, scenic, historic, and esthetic qualities of their environment; and the protection of the people in their right to the conservation, development and utilization of the agricultural, mineral, forest, water, air and other natural resources is hereby declared to be a public purpose'. - Article 97 of the Massachusetts Constitution

Public Lands Preservation Act

SD862 & HD1033

Lead Sponsors: Senator James B. Eldridge (Acton) and Representative Ruth B. Balsler (Newton)

In 1972, Massachusetts voters approved Article 97 of the state constitution to provide greater protection for public parks, conservation areas, forests and watershed lands.

Disposing of or changing the use of such municipal or state land requires a favorable two-thirds vote of each branch of the legislature.

The Public Lands Protection Act (PLPA) would codify current state policy that there be no net loss of lands or easements protected under Article 97, while also establishing a transparent and timely process for the transfer or change in use of state and municipal Article 97 land. The bill would ensure that the integrity of Article 97 is upheld and provide clear cost- and time- effective guidelines for municipalities to follow when submitting proposed Article 97 dispositions to the Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EOEEA) for review.

The PLPA would:

- Require that replacement land of comparable acreage, location and natural resource value be provided for each Article 97 disposition
- Require prior notification to EOEEA
- Increase transparency and efficiency in decision making process by EOEEA
- Establish waiver exemption from replacement land requirement in specific circumstances
- Provide clarity, increase efficiency, and reduce costs for municipalities and state agencies seeking disposition of Article 97 land
- Establish a requirement for EOEEA to make recommendations to the legislature on specific dispositions, to better inform legislative action

Benefits

Public land provides the Commonwealth with many benefits, including protecting drinking water supplies, providing clean air, supporting agriculture, forestry, recreation and tourism, sequestering carbon, and buffering against flooding as storms become more violent due to climate change. Preserving these lands becomes a priority as the Commonwealth works to prevent and adapt to global warming. Article 97 lands were acquired and protected using taxpayer dollars or donor contributions, and this bill will ensure that Article 97 dispositions don't undermine this protection.

Supporting Organizations

Over 100 public and private organizations support the PLPA, including Environmental League of Massachusetts, Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions, Mass Audubon, Massachusetts Chapter of the Sierra Club, The Nature Conservancy in Massachusetts, The Trustees, and many more (see over).
